Symphonic Mikrophonie Gong

Manufacturer

Paiste, Made in Germany

30+ years old

Spec

60"

Addtl Details

The Mikrophonie version was originally created for the late German composer Karlheinz Stockhausen who requested a specially made model that is thinner and more responsive than the standard 60" Symphonic Gong. It was used in his 1964 composition, Mikrophonie I.

Owners have included Dan Randall and Sandy Martin.

This is the same kind of gong that was used to make the sound of the Death Star exploding in Star Wars.

The purchase includes the Tone of Life Gong Stand.

This gong is "warmed up" and responsive to all mallets and flumies. Every tap and stroke yields a matrix of tantalizing sounds.

The gong to rule them all.
